MESSAGE FROM MAYOR

Dear Residents & Friends,

Happy Fall/Winter! I hope you all enjoyed a wonderful Spring/Summer!

On behalf of the Borough of Keyport, I'm excited to share our first Keyport Borough Newsletter. A heartfelt thank you to our local businesses for their support, which helps keep our community informed about the latest happenings.

As we embrace the Fall/Winter season, we invite you to join us for various events organized by Keyport Recreation and the Keyport Bayfront Business Cooperative (KBBC).

You may have noticed the ongoing work at Beach Park Playground. Thanks to grants from the Neighborhood Preservation Program (NPP), we're making much-needed improvements to enhance our waterfront and enrich the lives of our children. In the coming weeks, you can expect to see significant progress, including a new pavilion and concrete pad. We look forward to celebrating these enhancements with a ribbon-cutting ceremony once completed.

Additionally, several road projects are set to begin this fall. We will keep you updated on these developments through our Borough Website and social media.

I'd like to take a moment to thank our Borough Council, employees, first responders, residents, and volunteers for their dedication and hard work in making Keyport a great place to live. Together, we will continue to advance the Pearl of the Bayshore! Wishing you and your families a joyful holiday season! God Bless You all,
Mayor Rose P. Araneo

KEYPORT GREEN TEAM

The Keyport Green Team is the government half of the public-private partnership between the Borough and Sustainable New Jersey, an NGO devoted to achieving "a sustainable New Jersey, one community at a time." Its mission is to provide the tools and incentives to municipalities and school districts to pursue sustainability initiatives. These include administering and providing grants, offering technical assistance and maintaining an awards program, which assigns points for actions -- ranging from the arts to waste management -- taken by the community. Bronze, silver and gold certifications are awarded once certain point totals are achieved. Keyport Borough is currently a bronze-certified community.

Your Green Team is the agency responsible for administering this Sustainability Program at the Borough level. Members must be residents, appointed by the Mayor each year, and include representatives of Borough agencies and local non-profit organizations, and members of the public at large. Meetings scheduled this year at 7:00 p.m. at Borough Hall on the third Wednesday of each month are open to anyone who cares about the future of our earth, regardless of municipality of residence.

Since its establishment in 2009, among its many initiatives, the Green Team has overseen the completion of a brownfields inventory, a coastal vulnerability assessment, a residential energy efficiency outreach and dune grass planting. The team has also administered a PSE&G grant for water conservation education, which involved subsidizing rain barrels for residents, numerous workshops and the broadcast and posting of the Conservation Tip of the Month, still available on the Green Team page of the Borough website and by email. (Drop a note to keyportnjgreenteam@gmail.com to add your name to the list. The information is used for no other purpose.)

The past year has seen the Green Team embark on a multi-year program entitled Explore the Bay. The spring season was devoted to horseshoe crabs, with short informative items on the Borough website leading up to several presentations at Borough Hall. This fall has seen a joint Historical Society-Green Team program on oysters, a foundational industry for the Pearl of the Bayshore, and on Thursday, November 14 at 6:30 p.m. at Borough Hall, Dr. Michael Acquafredda of the Haskin Shellfish Research Laboratory of Rutgers University will present a program on clams, which is, like all Green Team programs, open to all.

KEYPORT SENIOR CENTER

KEYPORT FIRE DEPARTMENT—TODAY AND YESTERDAY

(Written October 9, 2024 by KFD members)

The Keyport Fire Department is today as it began in 1877 - an all-volunteer organization. All the originally organized fire companies are in service with many companies members being third, fourth and fifth generation firefighters. Unlike decades ago, attracting new members has become difficult today where spare hours for volunteering has diminished, a common issue state and nationwide. Locally, new challenges are being met to keep up with the modern challenges of firefighting and emergency responses while continuing to provide service as best as possible. Adding to the tasks of being a Keyport volunteer firefighter is the fact that each fire company owns and maintains and pays insurance for their own firehouse. Borough provided financial support does not cover the annual operating costs which are offset somewhat through fundraisers such as the Keyport Firemen's Fair. Prior to today's shortage of volunteers, the department had grown in both size and capability, reflecting the dedication of generations of Keyport's citizens who have stepped forward to serve. Sadly, since 1877, two of our firefighters have given their life in the line of duty. Jacob Leyrer of Engine Co. No. 1 in 1889 and Timothy Pflieger, the Chief of the Fire Department who gave his life at the age of 32 in 2022.

Brief History - The establishment of the Keyport Fire Department in 1877, is rooted in the borough's strong commitment to the protect the citizens from fire. Prior to the formation of the Fire Department, fires posed a significant threat to Keyport, at the time the largest seaport town in New Jersey. On September 21-22, 1877, a conflagration destroyed nearly the entire business district strongly dictating the need for a formal fire department. One hundred local officials and residents came together to create an organized system of fire protection with the creation of the Keyport Hook & Company No. 1 on October 10, 1877.

The Hook & Ladder Company was the cornerstone of Keyport's early fire protection efforts. Although now organized, several ex-volunteers from the New York City Volunteer Fire Department ensured that modern firefighting techniques were brought to Keyport in the early days. Despite challenges, the volunteers' commitment to protecting their neighbors was unwavering, and they would respond swiftly to alarms, often battling large blazes with bucket lines and hooks to pull down buildings to stop the spread of the flames.

As Keyport grew, a second fire company was added in 1889 with the formation of Keyport Engine Company No. 1. With the arrival of the municipal water system in 1893 three additional fire companies were established to bolster the town's fire-fighting capabilities. Lincoln Hose Co. No. 1, Raritan Hose Co. No 2 and Liberty Hose Co. No. 3. Each of these companies were staffed by volunteers who contributed not only their time but also their personal resources to buy property, build firehouses and before 1920 buy their own fire apparatus. These companies worked closely with each other to coordinate responses, especially during large-scale fires. In 1907, Eagle Hose Company No. 4 was formed and the Fire Police, originally established in 1893, were realigned in 1910 as a separate fire company. The collaborative spirit among the volunteers and their dedication to the community became a hallmark of the Keyport Fire Department which it still maintains today.
